Do you think arresting and jailing bosses like Bob Parson's of Godaddy for Wage Theft would send out a message to corporate America to stop the practice of stealing employees wages, and circumventing FLSA overtime laws?

Everyone,

Plaintiff counsel has withdrawn by request of the named plaintiff. We have asked for a tolling motion of 30 days to add new counsel and respond to the Leave for Amended Complaint. Something occurred that was not adding up, to the benefit of the class members and we asked Plaintiff counsel to recuse themselves. We will update on our new representation shortly.

Also, the Judge needs to approve this. This will most likely result in a hearing, because the Judge will want to know why the Plaintiffs Counsel is withdrawing mid case, which is considered unethical. The Plaintiff counsel also leaves a win on the table with the wrongful termination which was never answered by Godaddy, and is subject to default Judgement.

This looks suspicious and Bob this is how idiots like you and your attorneys get caught, doing dumb things like this. Because it simply doesn't add up. Bob you know another thing you can buy with your money? Problems.
